Welcome to Belfast

Welcome to BSDHT Oral Health Conference 2016 which, for the first time, is being held in Belfast. Our conference centre is the newly extended Waterfront which as its name suggests sits on the banks of the Lagan, giving wonderful views across Belfast.

It has been two years since our last conference and President Elect Helen Minnery has been using that time to bring together a comprehensive and diverse programme under the theme of ‘Perspectives’. You will be spoilt for choice and hopefully enjoy earning your CPD.

As always the Conference will incorporate a large exhibition. This is the ideal opportunity for you to visit the numerous trade stands, and look for the best deals and the newest products or services on offer in terms of dental supplies and services.

It also is a great opportunity to catch up with friends and colleagues and hopefully we will see many of you at the President’s reception, which promises to be a bit of craic.

I am delighted to welcome you to my home city and hope you get to experience not just the conference and social programme but also Belfast and the surrounding areas. This is a city jam packed with history, culture, exciting events, great food, super shopping... you might even spot a ship or two. You’ll also find some of the friendliest people you’ll ever meet.

I really hope you enjoy your time here.

Detailed programme Friday 18 November

Donald qualified from Glasgow University in 1983. His career has seen him spend time in the armed forces, NHS practice and private practice. He has a particular interest in treating dental phobics and aesthetic dentistry. Donald is currently a partner in the newly opened dental practice Dental Excellence at Harewood. He was one of the first dentists in the country to be made a Fellow in General Dental Practice of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, a Member in General Dental Surgery of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, is a full member of the British Academy of Aesthetic Dentistry and has passed the strenuous accreditation process of the British Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. Donald continues to be an examiner for the Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons of England. He is presently Chair of Credentialing and Vice President of the BACD.

Elaine qualified as a dental nurse in 1989 from the School of dentistry Belfast and has acquired vast clinical experience working across all areas of hospital dentistry. She went on to embark upon a career in education taking up the role of DCP tutor with the postgraduate dental deanery in 2008. 2015 saw Elaine complete her master’s studies at the University of Dundee as an advanced infection control practitioner. Lecturing in this area extensively to both post and undergraduate dental professionals she also works on a consultancy basis with dental teams helping develop standards. Outside the world of dentistry she is a wife and busy mum of three who loves life and enjoys it to the full.

Leo qualified from University College Hospital, London, in 1989. He worked in the Community Dental Service including a brief period overseas. He has also worked in General Dental Practice. He got a masters degree in Periodontology from the Eastman Dental Institute, London in 1995 and is on the GDC specialist register for Periodontics. Since 1995 he has provided specialist periodontal treatment in both the Salaried Dental Services and Private Practice. He started working part time for the DDU in 2005. In March 2007 he worked part time as a Clinical Tutor at the School for Professionals Complementary to Dentistry in Portsmouth. From February 2009 he started working full time for the DDU but continues to work clinically as a specialist periodontist in a General Practice on Saturdays. In January 2016 he become the Deputy Head of the DDU.

Alistair has a BSc Hons in Psychology from Dundee University (2005) as well as being a qualified dental hygienist/therapist (Greater Manchester School for Dental Care Professionals, 2009). Since 2009 he has gained a broad clinical experience, working in a variety of specialist dental practices. Since graduation he has worked as a research hygienist for the Unit of Periodontology at the Eastman Dental Hospital, London. He has held posts in Central London Community Healthcare Trust working as a therapist, in the Community Dental Service and as a dental hygiene and therapy tutor at King’s College London. Following on from this experience he then decided to further his clinical research experience within industry. In 2011 he joined GSK Consumer Healthcare as a Principal Clinical Research Scientist. During his time at GSK he worked extensively on clinical research within the Gum Health category. He has worked on global brands such as Corsodyl and parodontax, to both develop new products and the science supporting these products as well as being involved in future product development.
