To comply with the GDC requirement of appropriate training in dental bleaching, Martin Kelleher, Consultant in Restorative Dentistry and Specialist in Restorative Dentistry & Prosthodontics, will deliver a one day theory course with practical tips on behalf of BSDHT. After completing this course delegates will:

- Understand the diagnosis and the causes of discolouration
- Understand the rationale for bleaching
- Learn the scientific basis of modern bleaching
- Understand the chemistry and safety of dental bleaching
- Realise the importance of patient consent and evaluation of expectations
- Understand the development, efficacy and patient management of at-home bleaching
- Understand the clinical procedures of at-home bleaching
- Identify implications of fluorosis, tetracycline and congenital discolouration
- Understand the procedures and problems of chairside bleaching
- Appreciate the legal issues associated with tooth bleaching

About the speaker

Martin Kelleher is a Consultant in Restorative Dentistry at King's College London Dental Institute where he is postgraduate dental tutor at both the King's and Guy's sites. He is also in private restorative practice in Bromley. He is on the board of Dental Protection and chairs the Advisory Committee on Dental Claims. Martin is on the GDC specialist lists in Restorative Dentistry and Prosthodontics and is the current President of the BDA Southern Counties Branch. He is a past president of the British Society for Restorative Dentistry.

Martin has lectured internationally on the management of clinical risk, bleaching, bonding, wear and minimally destructive dentistry. He is the author of many peer reviewed papers and a book on bleaching published by Quintessence.

Course fee

£150 to include lunch, refreshments and a copy of Martin Kelleher's book 'Dental Bleaching'. A further hands-on course in chairside bleaching is being developed and will be offered to delegates who have attended this initial theory course.
